By Car

From Hannover/Berlin (see blue arrows): Take Autobahn A2 and get off at exit 70 "Magdeburg-Zentrum", then continue on the bypass "Magdeburger Ring" (B189 and B71).

From Halle (see blue arrows): Take Autobahn A14 and get off at exit 5 "Magdeburg-Sudenburg/Magdeburg-Zentrum", then continue on the bypass "Magdeburger Ring" (B81 and B71).

Follow the "Magdeburger Ring" to the exit "Universität/Zentrum-Nord" and turn right onto "Albert-Vater-Strasse" (B1). Follow the signs for the "Universität" and, at the first intersection after the traffic circle, turn right onto "Henning-von-Tresckow-Strasse". Follow the signs for "Fraunhofer-Institut" to the Fraunhofer IFF or the signs for "Wissenschaftshafen" to the VDTC.

From Burg/Dessau (see red arrows): Take highway B1. After crossing the two bridges over the Elbe River, turn right onto Sandtorstrasse. ## By Rail

From Magdeburg's main train station (Hauptbahnhof HBF), take the streetcar to the Fraunhofer IFF and VDTC (planning for approximately 30 minutes of travel time): Leave the station through the main exit, turn left and go to the next major street (Ernst-Reuter-Allee). At the stop "City Carré/Hauptbahnhof" take streetcar number 10 headed for "Barleber See" and get out at the stop "Opernhaus" and transfer there to streetcar number 5 headed for "Messegelände/Elbauenpark" and get out at the stop "Askanischer Platz". From there, take a left onto and follow Sandtorstrasse until reaching the Fraunhofer IFF or continue on to the next intersection, take a right onto Joseph-von-Fraunhofer-Strasse and follow the street through the traffic circle to reach the VDTC.
